THE EDITOR'S PANTS.

[Burlington Hawkeye.]

A burglar climbed into an editor's room,
Needy and poor was he;
And he saw in the dim uncertain gloom,
With legs as long as the stem of a broom,
A pair of trousers; "I'll just freeze on 'em,"
He chuckled, with fiendish glee.

He lifted them up from the back of the chair;
Lightly they hung on his arm;
They were the editor's only pair,
Thinner than gossamer everywhere;
Oh, but the knees were worn and bare,
Good clothes-when the weather is warm.

All over the room he searched in vain;
There was no more to find,
There was no sign of sordid gain,
No passing drops from a golden rain,
Only the wealth of the sleeper's brain,
The peace of the editor's mind.

He turned his back on that happy home,
Thoughtfully hefting those pants;
Out of the window he cautiously clomb;
He emptied the pockets—A broken comb,
A stub of a pencil, a manuscript pome,
Answered his searching glance.

He started, the tears flashed in his eyes.
He leaned up against the fence;
A look of pity, mute surprise
Softened his face; he stifled his cries,
He looked at the swag, and measured its size,
Value—about nine cents.

Into his pockets, his own, he went—
And he dragged out a ten-dollar bill;
And he hastily crammed it, every cent
Into the editor's pockets, and bent
The trousers into a wad, and sent
Them over the window sill.

Then on to a wealthier house he sped,
"'Twas a charity well bestowed."
He said to himself; and when night had fled,
And the editor rose from his virtuous bed,
And found the money, he whistled and said,
"Well, I'm e-sentially blowed!"

A FOREST FIRE.

Graphic Description of a Conflagration in the Mountains.

From the Leadville Courier.

The fire originated in the lower end of the first dry gulch south of the Pawnee, near Brown's charcoal camp. A burner named Thompson raked a few bright embers from his fiery pit from the opening, into a pile of dry leaves near by, which quickly ignited, and in less time than it takes to tell it the flames stole along the ground like the wind scud that precedes a tornado, gathering force with its progress, and soon developing into a huge billow of fire, leaping from the tiny grass blades to the thicker underbrush, and thence climbing to the very topmost boughs of the giant trees of the forest, for a moment bathing them in a lurid, life-destroying flame, then leaving them clothed in weeds of blackened mourning and desolation.

The fire began at forty minutes past two o'clock yesterday afternoon, and by five o'clock, at which time a Chronicle reporter appeared upon the scene, the swath of the flame was probably two miles in width, the wind directing the fire southward in the direction of Iowa gulch, and eastward toward Bald mountain — Georgia gulch on the north, and the first ridge this side of Iowa gulch bounding its course.

A GRANDER SPECNACLE

was never witnessed on earth. Over the scene hung a dense volume of parti-colored smoke —bluish-green, greenish-yellow, light and dark blue, gray and black—the whole blending in an atmosphere that fancy pictures hell in. In the centre of the grim canopy a column black as night, and perhaps twenty feet in circumference, was carried far above the main mass by an eddy caused by the intensity of the heat, very much resembling a water-spout at sea. Like a huge anaconda the great column, in the shape of an inverted cone, wound its way up through the brighter elements and lost itself in the clouds, forming a striking and awe-inspiring feature of the awful spectacle.

Beautiful beyond the power of pen to describe was the conflagration at its height. The flames seemed to roll like an ocean billow, and to roar as never did the sea—leaping from one cluster of trees to another, ravishing each of its verdant foliage in a manner as erratic as certain, sometimes climbing from the topmost projection down to the base, again commencing at the roots and whirling through its every branch to the top, the work of total destruction scarcely consuming more than fifteen seconds of time to each tree.

A rich widow, lacking only two years of a half century and dressing her hair six times a day, in Elizabethtown, Kentucky, fell in love with a youth of nineteen, who had been working on her farm. Her two stepsons ordered him to leave the town, and threatened to use a shot gun if he should ever attempt to return. The widow took the lad to town, purchased for him a new suit of clothes and charged him to get a license. The young man did as he was told, and when they were married she carried him home and asked her stepsons what they meant to do about it.

A farmer in Holden, Me., relates that, being much annoyed by crows pulling up his corn, he placed a large umbrella in his field in order to frighten them away. He was a good deal surprised one wet day at finding a good flock seeking shelter under it from the rain. The umbrella is now used for another purpose.

The Cincinnati Saturday Night informs "Young Farmer" that it cannot tell him "how to cure a ham unless he informs it what ails the ham."

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

A thoughtless fashion writer says: Striped parasols are fast taking the place of striped stockings. This hardly seems possible or comfortable, but the freaks of fashion are very strange, and those who have been wearing striped stockings will be watched with great interest.

Since the creation it is estimated that 27,000,000,000,000,000 have lived on the earth. This sum divided by 27,864,000, the number of square miles gives 1,314,522,086 to a square mile, and 5 to a square foot. Suppose a square rod be divided into 11 graves, each grave would contain 100 persons.

It appears that frost does not surely kill the yellow fever, and now the doctors, at the last session of the American Medical Association, say that the typhoid fever is propagated not only by water and milk, which is often diluted with water, but also by ice!

Plucky Henrietta Krueger, a Milwaukee servant girl, grabbed Dr. Herman Rœse, a quack doctor, on the street the other day and held him until the police came, in spite of his frantic efforts to get away. Henrietta had seen the doctor stealing things from the rooms of the boarding house where she was employed, and spotted her man as soon as she met him on the street.

A Very Knowing Dog.

From Nature.

A few months ago I made the acquaintance of a dog, which I think is worthy of a place among the dogs and cats and rats and mules that are helping the pages of Nature to determine the degree and kind of animal intelligence. "Priest's" is a hotel on the the way from the Calavaras grove of big trees to the Yosemite. In former years, on the arrival of the stage, the landlady would send the dog to the poultry yard to catch chickens for the tourists' dinner. Now the dog "takes time by the forelock. The stage is due at 6 o'clock. About 5 o'clock the dog saunters leisurely down the road till he meets the stage; he then bounds back to the poultry yard, catches chickens, bites their heads off, and takes them to the cook! The number of chickens he kills bears a relation to the number of passengers he saw in the stage. A gentleman who stopped at the hotel for a few days went into the woods one afternoon with a gun. When he returned the dog came to him in much excitement to see what game he had taken. Finding his hands and his bag empty, the dog ran into the forest, and returned in less than an hour with a bird, which he gave with an air of compassion to the unskilled hunter.

THE NATION'S CELEBRATION.

The returns are coming in from various parts of the nation, giving particulars of minor fires and accidents resulting from the explosive demonstrations of patriotism on the Fourth. The day was hardly fitly celebrated this year, as no great conflagrations are reported, but the next Fourth will probably be better commemorated. However, some towns made praiseworthy efforts. Trenton, N. J., sacrificed a church with a steeple 184 feet high, and containing a fine organ. The church was ignited by means of a rocket, shot up so as to fall on the roof and fire the shingles. Four firemen were injured by the falling of the roof. The cost of the church was about $45,000. The Trenton people did very well this year and would have had a truly glorious celebration, but that the rain came down and prevented a widespread conflagration. Massachusetts makes rather a poor showing this year. Only one church, the Unitarian, at Scituate, was offered up, and that was ignited in a cheap and vulgar way by fire-crackers. New York was not conspicuous in the late celebration, in the way of the consumption of property, but nobly devoted several valuable lives in a patriotic commemoration of the glorious day. One young lady at Poughkeepsie, Miss Jessie Dunbar, was sacrificed as a burnt offering upon the altar of our country,s liberties. Young America ignited her clothing with fire-crackers, and she was burned to death in a blaze of patriotic fire. In the eastern states, sundry eyes were put out and several arms were blown off by premature explosions of cannon "upon the day we celebrate." San Francisco made no great demonstration this time. Only eleven petty fires, at a private cost of merely $7700. The city, however, celebrated the occasion by eleven fire alarms and a corresponding number of parades by the fire department, at an expense of about $1200. Los Angeles made a noble effort to fire Governor Downey's mansion and would have succeeded, but for that gentleman's unpatriotic efforts to suppress the flames. California as a whole, however, did pretty well, considering the hard times. Quite a number of Californians blew up their lives in the course of their efforts to "fitly celebrate the day."

GREEDY GLENN.

If a man could comfortably sit on the crest of the Sierra and see and hear everything going on in California during the present campaign, his position would afford him much amusement. The California newspapers give us a faint idea of the degree to which the angry passions of the voters are being stirred. Poor Glenn is catching it hot already. He is just beginning to realize what a crime he committed in becoming the possessor of 65,000 acres of land. All the Republican papers of the State keep that crime of Glenn's in prominent type before their readers. In some papers the figures "65,000" bristle in every political paragraph. Take up a Record Union and the eye is fascinated by the procession of 65,000s. But there seems to be some difference of opinion as to the depth of criminality into which Glenn has fallen. Some papers estimate it at 60,000 acres, and others vary from 60,000 to 70,000 acres. Thus, the Mountain Messenger says: "Dr. Glenn has 66,000 acres, grasping to himself what the Lord meant for all mankind." The South-Coast says: "This man, with his 65,000 acres, this deadly enemy of the poor man," etc. Again, the Alameda Reporter accuses Glenn of being the "possessor of 60,000 acres, a very large portion of which is under cultivation." It would be a good idea for the Republican State Central Committee of California to ascertain precisely how many acres of land Glenn owns; then the extent of his rascality and degree of enmity to the poor can be definitely expressed, mathematically, at 60,000, 65,000, or 66,000 acres, as the case may be. The Republican papers could then all agree upon the figures, and the man perched on the Sierra would not have so much fun during the campaign.

San Francisco advices report it probable that the California and Con. Virginia dividends will be passed this month. It is said that the ore lately met with in both mines is of low grade, and that because of draining operations during the past month little ore has been extracted.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Bodie News says that "the Darwinian theory has exploded." The News devotes just a line to the subject. This remark of the Bodie News seems rather funny, in view of the fact that almost all the scientists of the day have admitted the truth of the theory of evolution. Perhaps the News will kindly say what has exploded Darwinism. The explosion it refers to is probably local, very likely confined to the News office.

The Enterprise says: "Nearly 600 passengers left New York in a single day week before last. These 600 passengers, to make the voyage across the Atlantic, will expend $100,000. Of that money half is real profit, which goes to foreign ship owners." Will the Enterprise please intorm us what inducement the Government must hold out in addition to the $50,000 profits per day to induce Americans to sail ships over the sea.

The State Central Committee of the Honorable Bilks met in San Francisco yesterday, and considered the subject of bouncing Dr. Glenn. Action was deferred a week, when Glenn will be present. If he renounces the Democrats he stays; if not, out he goes. J. S. Wesslar is talked of for the place.

The President of the Memphis Board of Health attribxtes that city's comparative freedom from fevers this year to its unusual cleanliness. During the last two weeks there has not been a single death from fever of any form. This has not occurred before during any two weeks of June for six years.

The proceeds of the picnic on Saturday, are to be expended for the purpose of buying hose for the 48. There will be plenty of cars, plenty of boats on the lake, and plenty of platform room for dancing. The object is worthy, and every property holder should buy at least one ticket.

James Gordon Bennett's arctic bound steamer Jeannette sailed from San Francisco this afternoon. Mr. Bennett is in Paris, and consequently cannot witness the departure. If the north passage is discovered the expedition will land in New York instead of returning to San Francisco.

New Yorkers are gambling a good deal in mining stock. As illustrating the growth of mining stock speculation, the recent sale of a seat in the New York Stock Exchange for $10,000, is significant. A year ago it would not have brought a third of that sum.

The telephone line between Truckee and Sierraville is about twenty-two miles loug. It was completed and went into use last week. Such a means of communication between those two points must prove of great convenience.

The Times-Review says it is pretty certain that the Belle Isle will pay a fifty-cent dividend about the middle of the present month.

Were it not for its patriotic associations, we should designate the Fourth as the most disagreeable day that we ever experienced in Tuscarora. The wind blew a gale, and the air was filled with sand and dust, says the Times-Review.

John Roper burglarized Goodban's restaurant in Virginia on Sunday night. A policeman appeared on the scene as he was making off, when some wide shooting was done by both parties. Roper soon threw up is hands and was coiled away in the jug.

Tuscarora was startled from its propriety last Friday evening by a curious spectacle. About 11 o'clock Friday night the window curtains in Miss Mollie Forshay's bed-room by some means caught fire. She was asleep at the time, but the blaze awakened her, and springing from her bed she tore the burning muslin down, and with her hands succeeded in smothering the flames, but in doing so she was badly burned about the neck, breast and arms. Her injuries are quite serious, but the surgeon who attends her does not consider them dangerous.—Tuscarora Times-Review.

Hurricane on the Danube—Chinese Massacre the Mussulmen—Talmage in London—Mexican Mutiny.

A telegram from Lord Chelmsford says Cetewayo has not yet yielded to the proposals made to him.

PARIS, July 8.—There was a hurricane on the River Danube to-day. A steamer with fifty-three passengers was sunk, and only five persons were saved.

LONDON, July 7.—A correspondent at Berlin draws a gloomy picture of the state of Russia, owing to Nihilists, the failure of crops and the ravages of the corn beetle. Fifty thousand roubles have been appropriated to exterminate the beetles.

LONDON, July 6.—The Chinese have retaken Kashgar. A portion of the Mussulman population fled, but many people were massacred, and a large body of citizens are shut up in the citadel. The inhabitants of Kuldja have determined to fly if the town and province are restored to China by the Russians.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 30.—On the 26th, part of the crew of the Mexican war steamer Libertad, at Vera Cruz, mutinied and seized the steamer while the commander was on shore. Simultaneously some officers at Vera Cruz attempted to raise a revolt. Nine of the rebels were killed. The steamer Libertad went to sea and other steamers went in pursuit.

A dispatch from Berlin says: The prospect now is regarded certain of the early adoption of a high protective tariff, and has caused merchants to import large quantities of goods in advance, so as to escape the increase of duties. Hence a great falling off in trade is feared after the new tariff shall become a law. Bismarck, in the face of serious objections, insists upon an increase in the duty on foreign commerce.

Talmage preached at Agricultural Hall this afternoon to two congregations of 20,000 people each. Thousands upon thousands of people thronged the streets leading to the hall for miles, almost blockading the passage of vehicles and pedestrians. Many people were crushed, and Talmage's carriage was almost demolished by the jam of the great crowd. Every individual was anxious to see the distinguished American preacher. His presence here is creating a furore through Great Britain. Press comments deal with him daily from various points of view as a preacher or a lecturer, but all admit his power and originality.

Successsul Experiment in Reducing Refractory Ore.

S. F. Post.

The experiment of extracting antimony, zinc, lead, iron and all base metals from refractory ore, by passing quartz previously wasted over copper plates heavily charged with electricity by the Western Electric Company, a full account of which was published in the Post of Thursday last, has a proven a grand success. Ore which, under ordinary process, milled but $3 per ton has been made to go up as high as $15. The result of Thursday's trial has demonstrated the fact that the base metal in the most refractory ore can be extracted by electricity, and at a trifling cost per ton. This discovery will prove a veritable bonanza to the company, and will also permit of a hundred mines being worked with profit where there is now but one. The company is largely indebted to Thomas V. Julien, superintendent of the Consolidated Esmeralda mine, for the successful result, that gentleman having made many improvments upon the originally crude apparatus used for that purpose. After a few more tests, the company will, it is understood, erect extensive reduction works at Reno or some other point on the Central Pacific railroad contiguous to the mining districts of Nevada.

Weston's First Great Pedestrian Feat.

N. Y. Sun.

Edward Payson Weston went to Hartford seventeen years ago as a book canvasser, in the service of a subscription publishing house, and boarded there all winter. A book agent, by virtue of his calling, must be a skilled pedestrian to succeed. Weston, in his daily rounds, discovered that he had powers of endurance which might be turned to his advantage, and it was there that the idea of becoming a professional walker was formed. He told the boarders at Mrs Lamb's, where he was stopping, of his purpose and, to give himself a test, he walked on Sunday from Hartford to New Haven and back, a distance of seventy-two miles. It was considered a remarkable feat for an amatuer, as it was. That was the first great effort of the present champion of the world.

Remains of Fire in the Bullion.

The Enterprise says that all is now secure at the Bullion mine. Last Sunday morning the bulkhead at the 1840 level was removed, and the steam and heated air confined below in the incline allowed to find its way out. The temperature beneath the bulkhead was found to be 130 degrees. When the bulkhead on the 2000 level of the Imperial was taken out it caused a draft to sweep through into the Bullion, and at one point where there was some smouldering fire in two sets of timbers a small blaze started up. The pieces of wood found to be on fire were tumbled down into the water which covered the floor of the drift and extinguished.

Ohio, South Carolina and Tennessee specials report an enormous yield of the staple products. In Ohio the immense crop of wheat is nearly all secured, and in the best condition possible. In Tennessee there is also an immense crop of a very superior quality.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

Yesterday morning Charles S. Newhall was found dead on the sidewalk on Second street, between J and K, in Sacramento. It is supposed that he died from an overdose of chloral hydrate, taken with suicidal intent.

A fire is raging in the forests near Mineral King, Tulare county, California. It was started by a lady setting fire to a tree to burn a coon out. Two or three thousand acres of good feed have been destroyed by it, and it is still spreading.

The grasshoppers have again made their appearance in the region of country between here and Rattlesnake Bar, and in some instances are already doing considerable damage. We learn from Geo. Threlkill that they are very thick at his place. He proposes to turn a drove of turkeys loose on them.—Placer Herald.

The Leadville Eclipse says: James Cunningham and Mrs. Anna Love, of this city, who disappeared in company about ten days ago, have been captured in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, where they were registered as man and wife. Deputy Sheriff Hawley, of Denver, started Wednesday to bring the pair back to Leadville. They were captured Tuesday evening, soon after their arrival. It is to be hoped that due punishment will be meted out to the scoundrel who abused the generosity of his benefactor by enticing his wife away from her happy home.

Another Sheriff of Inyo Killed.

Inyo Independent, July 3d.

This evening, about 6 o'clock, Wm. L. Moore, sheriff of this county, was instantly killed while performing his duty as an officer, by a shot received from either of two parties who were at the time engaged in altercation. The men—named respectively Michael Welch and Henry Tessier—had met with six-shooters, in the Aldine saloon, with the apparent intent on the part of Tessier to seek a shooting match on account of some words which had passed between them there a few hours before. Our sheriff stepped in between them, and received from one of the men—it is not known which—a ball in the right side. He spoke a few words and fell dead.

Welch was immediately taken into custody and lodged in jail. Tessier ran through and out of town and has so far eluded capture—though the plains are being scoured and there is scarce a possibility of his escape. The town is wild with excitement, and the lynching of the two men is probable. Sheriff Moore's predecessor in office, Thomas Passmore, met with his death in an equally tragic manner, the result of which was the killing by enraged citizens of five criminal participants.

The deceased officer, Wm. L. Moore, was a man universally beloved, and the grief is intense here.

Tessier is about 32 years of age, light black moustache and black hair; by birth Canadian French, and a very stylish young man.

Queue-Cutting Unconstitutional.

Justice Field, of the United States Supreme Court, yesterday, in the Circuit Court at San Francisco, decided a case involving the validity of the so-called queue ordinance, which provides for cutting off the queues of all Chinamen when sent to the county jail. The Court decided that the ordinance was special legislation of a character prohibited by the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and consequently invalid. Judge Sawyer of the Circuit Court concurred in the decision.

A Mean and Cruel Act.

A number of boys made a little fire by the side of the railroad track, near the corner of Virginia street, early last evening. It was done for amusement and they enjoyed themselves playing about the miniature bon-fire. A little Indian boy was attracted by the flames, and walking up stood close beside the fire, his legs naked from the knees down. An inhuman little white wretch kicked the burning wood against the poor little Indian's shins, burning them severely. The cruel young rascal should have been arrested, but was not.

A Skilful Climber.

Frank Peterson, Western Union repairer, climbed the flagstaff over Chamberlain's hotel about noon to-day and straightened out the points of the compass. D. H. Barker set his compass on the ground and gave the direction. Frank used no spurs as he did not want to mar the pole.

WONDETFUL WALKING.

Blondin and Weston Outdone by Professor Varia—The Greatest Feat of the Age.

Yesterday afternoon a decayed looking gentleman, in seedy black and a nose like a red June apple, distributed "dodgers" all over town announcing that "Professor" Varia would walk "over the water on a tight rope at the bridge at 5 o'clock in the evening." As the hour of five came near a GAZETTE reporter found himself in the vicinity of the bridge, where a large crowd, the component parts of which were principally small boy, had assembled to see the

DARING PROFESSOR.

A small rope was stretched from the bridge over the edge of the stream for about thirty feet. The rope was about ten feet from the water. A long pole, which looked like a spar from the wrecked Pinafore, reclined against it. A fellow in a hickory shirt and a shocking bad hat was running around in his stocking feet, which smote the nasal organs like the trail of a pestilence every time he got to the windward. This was Professor Charles Augustus Fitzjones Varia, the renowned tight-rope walker, who could walk a crack in a floor without falling down any day, not too soon after the Fourth of July. To steady the rope, a cord was twisted around it in the middle, the ends of which were fastened to the bank on either side of the river. The cord parted on the far side and drifted out into the river. The "Professor" with great crawled out on the rope and caught the cord; but the strain was too great, and he was forced to drop it again. The small boys appreciated the act of heroism, however, and clapped their hands amid exclamations of "Didn't he do it fine!" "He could climb a tree with limbs on it!" "He could stand on his head, if he had something to lean his back against," etc. The Professor was now in a perilous condition, and he came near falling into the turbid tide which rolled in a seething flood at least two feet in depth, below, but succeeded in reaching the bridge in safety. The end of the cord was recovered at length, and everything fixed for the "performance." The Professor climbed upon the rope, and by the exercise of his wonderful agility stood upright, while the crowd shrank aghast at such reckless daring. But the Professor was still farther to astonish them. He balanced the main-mast of the Pinafore, and in the short space of fifteen minutes walked the distance of six feet over the foaming waters. The crowd stood speechless with wonder at this feat. The Professor now proceeded to descend, and succeeded, after some laborious effort,

COURAGE AND PRESENCE OF MIND,

IN GETTING SAFELY DOWN.

Again the small boy clapped his hands and exclaimed aloud in the exuberance of his delight. Professor Varia now attempted a still more daring feat, that of passing around the hat. The spectators had got so spell-bound with the exploits they had seen that they had staid much longer than they ought, and manifested a great haste in returning to business. The crowd dissipated before the hat as frost before the morning sun. The contents of the hat at the close of the collection were three slick quarters, two short bits, a leather medal, and a second-hand chew of tobacco. Here the curtain fell, and Professor Charles Augustus Fitzjones Varia put on his shoes to the very great relief of the boarders in the Lake House.

A Hit at Liberty.

This country is fast falling into the hands of the monied aristocracy. There are monopolies of land and water, gas, and almost of air. There are steamboat monopolies and railroad monopolies, and they are constantly becoming more aggressive. The latest raid upon the liberties of the common people is by the Virginia and Truckee railroad which has had its cars so constructed that one seat cannot be turned unless every one in the car is. They are so close together that the back of one seat cannot be turned so as to give one party a double seat, without striking the next one. Hereafter no honest Kearneyite can straighten his feet out on the seat in front of him. Whither are we drifting?

A New Dam.

The mill company's dam on the Truckee river, just behind Captain Bragg's house, is to be replaced by a new one. Lake and Beck recently let a contract to G. W. Houston, to put in a solid curb dam filled with rock, just below the old one. The mudsills will be forty feet long and the job will be a permanent one. The river may yet be useful as a rowing ground and that healthful and delightful sport be added to the charms of Reno.

Accident to a Boy.

Last evening a little boy of John Cahlan, was thrown from a wagon in crossing the railroad track on Sierra street. He was sitting in the back of the wagon and was thrown out as the vehicle turned to cross the track. One of the hind wheels passed over his head, bruising and cutting it badly. One of the boy's ears was almost severed from his head. His injuries are not dangerous, and he is now doing well.

New School House at Lovelocks.

Lovelocks has a new school house just finished. It is quite creditable. Mrs. Myra W. Knox is the presiding genius, and is very much of a favorite.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Yesterday Afternoon's Proceedings—To-Day's Doings—Adjourned this Afternoon.

The following were the proceedings of the county commissioners yesterday afternoon, subsequent to those reported in the GAZETTE last evening.

J. J. Jackson's resignation as justice of the peace for Pyramid precinct was accepted.

Quarterly report of county and precinct officers were received and placed on file.

Board adjourned till ten A. M. today.

Commissioners met this morning pursuant to adjournment, and sat as a town board.

The petition of B. H. Jamison and others for the removal of a slaughter house in Evans' North Addition was read, and laid on the table. No action taken, as an existing ordinance provides for the removal of such nuisances.

The application of the officers and members of Reno Engine Co., No. 1, for permission to act under the regulations of the board, was read and the application granted.

The petition in relation to closing houses of business on Sunday, was taken up and read. As a full board was not present it was thought advisable to postpone any action in the matter until the next meeting.

The commissioners disposed of the remaining business this afternoon.

A FATAL FIGHT.

The Story of Two Skeletons by the Shore of Honey Lake.

Two pairs of deer horns, interlocked so closely that they cannot be wrenched apart, were shown in Reno last night. Their owner is on his way East, and is taking them with him as a curiosity. The horns were found attached to the skeletons of two bucks, near Honey Lake. A man named Wade Fairchild came upon them in the latter part of last month, while traveling over the mountains.

The skeletons of elks, moose and deer, in pairs, with horns inextricably interlocked, are sometimes found in the same way, though rarely. It is well known that the males of the deer family fight desperately during the "calling" season. What a battle that must have been near the shore of Honey Lake, years ago. Fancy the two bucks, their antlers firmly locked, fighting until worn out with exhaustion. Then the vain efforts to get free. At last came starvation, with all its pangs. Perhaps one died first, and the survivor remained fast to the dead body, until death came to him in turn, and relieved him of his tortures. And the doe, the cause of that terrible tragedy, probably browsed around tranquilly all the time until they died, and then left the neighborhood to look for a suitor that could keep himself free from entanglements.

More Swarms Of Bees.

This morning two distinct swarms of bees alighted on Hagerman's building on the corner of Sierra Street and Commercial Row. Each swarm selected a place on the edge of the roof where a crack permitted a passage into the ceiling of the building. Both colonies were actively at work this afternoon. When they have accumulated a sufficient stock of honey to make it worth while, Hagerman can remove a board or two and capture their store. They are too high up to do any harm to passengers on the street. Under the circumstances two such swarms of bees are a very desirable acquisition. Bees cannot be much valued about Reno or the owners of swarms would promptly hive them before they took their second flight.

H. M. S. Pinafore.

The performance of Pinafore at Kimball's hall last night was on the whole good, notwithstanding the lack of stage facilities and other difficulties under which the company labored. The choruses are full and strong, and the Ralph Rackstraw of Gates is excellent. Miss Hunt does not make a good Josephine. She is not at home in the part and sings badly. The other parts of the operatta were well taken. But our people do not seem to take kindly to Pinafore. Perhaps it is because it is new to them. The critic's say that one must become familiar with it to appreciate it. Only a small audience turned out to see the performance.

Matters at the Sierra Nevada.

It seems there was yesterday a grand scare in San Francisco about the water in the Sierra Nevada, some one having telegraphed from this place that the water had increased beyond control, and the mine was going to the dogs. The facts are that the water is being handled without trouble, and ore is being extracted as usual. As the water is running down instead of increasing, therefore it will not be necessary to cease the extraction of ore.—Enterprise.

H. M. S. Pinafore Aground.

The gallant crew of the Pinafore had to make their way from Virginia to Reno yesterday without the aid of their commander, who fell into the clutches of the law and was under $40 bonds to appear before Justice Knox yesterday evening. Failing to appear at the time bills were due here, there was considerable demonstration among those who had been drawn upon for rent, lights and other small matters. There was nothing to draw upon except the proceeds of a rather slim house to pay hotel bills, hall rent, etc., and no amount of stretching was sufficient to make ends meet. There was talk of turning off the gas and so on, but nothing was done to interfere with the performance. The baggage of the performers and the scenery were attached, and the saucy ship to-day lies becalmed in Justice Bowker's office. The scenery is claimed by John Piper of Virginia, the baggage and costumes by a San Francisco party, and the personal baggage by the members of the troupe. Meantime Simmons, the manager, whose occupation is that of an auctioneer in Sacramento, forfeited his bail in Virginia and skipped the town, driving to Verdi, where he took the train for Truckee, where, being outside the State, he could safely direct the movements of the fleet by telegraph. He seems to be trying hard to arrange his Reno bills satisfactorily, and his party will doubtless sail away to-night. Harry Gates and the other gentlemen of the company have made every effort to see the accounts settled.

Talk is Cheap,

And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishing goods, if you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. We do not boast when we say that we defy competition in prices in anything in our line. Besides this we have only one price. We have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at our establishment. Our stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this state. Everything we have is new. No old, musty, and out-of-date goods can be found on our shelves. We receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of our prices, and examine our stock before going into those humbugging, Cheap John shops in which they drum into the ear of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Anybody with common sense must know that they lie. No storekeeper sells goods for the fun of the thing. we make a profit on everything we sell, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. We particularly call attention to our full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods forms one of our specialties. Remember the place, the White House, No. 19 Commercial Row.

Summons.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe. The State of Nevada sends to Ardeen Jones greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Jemima Jones as plaintiff in the Districtcourt of the Second Judicial District and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this Summons, (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to obtain a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between plaintiff and defendant. Plaintiff alleges: That plaintiff and defendant intermarried at Mono county, California, on or about July 29th, A. D 1873, and ever since have been and now are husband and wife; that on or about September 9th, A. D. 1875, you, the defendant, willfully deserted and abandoned plaintiff, and ever since have so continued and do now so continue to desert, abandon and live apart from the plaintiff against her will, wish or consent; that for more than a year next preceding the commencement of this action you, the defendant, have failed and neglected and now do fail and neglect to provide for the plaintiff the common necessities of life, which neglect is and was not the result of poverty on your part, which you could not have avoided by ordinary industry; that there are no children living of the issue of said marriage and no common property. Plaintiff prays to be restored to her maiden name and for costs, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county. And you are further notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

SEAL. In testimony whereof I, P. B. Comstock, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this sixth day of December, A. D. 1878.

P. B. COMSTOCK,
Clerk of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, Nevada, in and for Washoe county.

WHY STAY POOR?

Prospecting often Pays; Idleness Never.

The millions of the Comstock were a lucky find. Worthless looking rock is often rich in treasure. At Leadville a simple assay made millionaires of many. Other bonanzas where least suspected await the coming of some unknown man. Who is he?

At Virginia City, Nevada, assays for Gold and Silver are made at $1.00 per sample, by CONRAD WIEGAND, formerly the Supervising Assayer of the U. S Mint at San Francisco.

The mail will carry ore-samples to his office for one cent per ounce.

Reports which may be relied on absolutely, come back by return mail, or results are telegraphed when ordered so.

All costs, delays and risks in remitting money are avoided by the purchase of our Dollar Remittance Tickets, which pay for all work done in our establishment.

We sell these prepaid tickets at a discount, when $5 worth or more are ordered at one time.

Small sacks for mailing ore samples also for sale at a nominal price.
